A MARINE CHRONOMETER FOR THE MODERN YACHTSMAN

The timepiece that enabled early adventurers to map the globe is revived in the Thomas Mercer "Classis" by Andrew Winch Designs. Recounting voyages of discovery, 12 historic ships are represented along the chronometer's Macassar ebony body, their names inlaid in satinwood and coordinates, years and depictions engraved on the case. Yacht designer Andrew Winch recalled his personal voyage of discovery in designing the clock's cabinet, taking inspiration from the windlasses of Antigua's Nelson's Dockyard that met him following his first transatlantic crossing as a young sailor.

The timepiece by Thomas Mercer (which must be wound every eight days) is double gimballed to remain level no matter the sea state. Its beating heart, the Spring Détente escapement, is visible through the dial. A very limited series of 10 will be produced, the first going on a 203-footer in build at Feadship Van Lent. £125,000. ### THE QUIET TENDER

Designed for owners looking to live in the moment, take a slower pace and enjoy quiet time on the water, ecoboats US introduces the Silennis S020. This slim, 16-foot craft is powered by a small electric motor in the form of a pivotal pod, which allows excellent maneuverability, even in reverse. She can reach 5.2 knots for two hours and cruise at 3.8 knots for up to nine hours.

The S020 is beautiful in its simplicity—the slim boat is constructed in GRP and has stainless steel accessories; the deck can be finished in teak or non-slip GRP. The open flush deck provides the option for multi-uses beyond a calm water cruiser with plentiful space for photography, fishing or surfing gear. A detachable transom can be fitted when needed to keep dry, and a Bimini top deploys for protection from the sun. $31,300. www.ecoboatsus.com

A SCOOTER FIT FOR A SUPERYACHT

If you feel like going on your own Roman Holiday adventure, this Tribute Vespa GTV celebrates the blue hulls of the most majestic super-yachts gliding around the Mediterranean. Inspired by 1960s speed boats with a mahogany mirror finish and a hand stitched leather seat, it is based on the Vespa GTV 250/300 and uses styling from the classic '50s Vespa. $22,995.
